NRB Group Appoints Pierre Dumont as New Chief Commercial Officer

NRB Group, one of Belgium's leading IT services companies, including Cevi Groupe, Civadis, Zorgi, and Computerland, is pleased to announce the appointment of Pierre Dumont as Chief Commercial Officer (CCO). In his new role, Pierre will report directly to André Vanden Camp, CEO of NRB Group.

Pierre began his career at ComTech, where he played an instrumental role in transforming a startup into a leading Belgian IT company. His significant contribution to the resale of the company to the South African group Persetel, as well as his key role in establishing a European network of network integrators, perfectly illustrates his ability to lead ambitious projects and develop visionary strategies. As Managing Director at NTT, his commitment to customer satisfaction was essential to his success. Most recently, at NRB subsidiary Prodata, he led market development in Wallonia and Brussels, further strengthening the company's presence and confirming his skills in growth and strategy in the IT sector.

"I'm delighted to take on this new challenge at NRB Group. I had the opportunity to become acquainted with the Group from the inside during my assignment at Prodata, for which I am grateful for the fruitful collaboration over the past two years. My passion has always been centred around placing the customer at the heart of our strategies. In this new structure and governance of the Group, I am committed to reinforcing this philosophy, ensuring that every interaction and every solution proposed resonate with the needs and expectations of our customers. Together with each subsidiary of the Group, we will not only address today's challenges but also anticipate future trends, providing an unprecedented customer experience and driving the continued growth of our Group" says Pierre.

André Vanden Camp adds: "Pierre's inclusion in our Group Executive Committee is excellent news. His unique background and expertise in customer satisfaction, coupled with his ability to understand the evolving strategic needs of our customers, align perfectly with our values and ambitions."

Pierre Dumont's appointment as CCO of the NRB Group, which comprises NRB SA, Civadis, Cevi Groupe, Siggis, Computerland, and Zorgi, will inject new dynamism and reinforce the Group's commitment to delivering excellent customer service."
